RBST
Rare Breeds Survival Trust

Securing the future of our rare and native breeds of farm livestock

MONITOR

- We monitor the numbers of rare and native breeds. Each year RBST collects data from breed societies and uses the number of animals registered in a year to calculate the effective population, to produce the annual Watchlist.
- We monitor threats to breeds. Other factors, such as inbreeding and geographical concentration, can threaten our breeds. We monitor and act to try to reduce these threats.

SAVE

- We save genetics in our National Gene Bank. We collect and store genetic materials from animals, in the form of semen from males and, where practical, embryos from females. This is our insurance policy. If a breed were to become extinct, we can use this store to reinstate a breed.
- We save animals. In emergencies, RBST will buy genetically important stock and place it in approved breeding centres.

PROMOTE

- We promote the breeding and registration of rare and native breeds. Together our staff, members and support groups provide a network of knowledge to support and encourage breeders.
- We promote the use of rare and native breeds for food, fibre, conservation grazing, and to represent our cultural heritage.
